TOSIBOX ADVANCES INTO FINALS IN INTERNATIONAL IOT COMPETITION

Finnish company poised for gold medal in IoT Innovation World Cup

Tosibox, a Finnish company offering secure remote connection solutions, has advanced into the finals in the leading global Internet of Things competition. The IoT Innovation World Cup finalists are presented and the award ceremony held at the Mobile World Congress in Barcelona on March 1.

The IOT INNOVATION WORLD CUP is the leading IOT award worldwide. The World Cup features hundreds of contestants from over 70 countries, representing the fields of machine to machine communication and the Internet of Things (IoT). Tosibox was chosen from over 400 contestants, and enters the final among 28 other finalists in the category of industrial solutions.

“Coming second only to customer feedback and input, award nominations such as this are true indications that we are headed in the right directions with our solutions and their development. This is an important step in our road towards our ultimate goal: to create a global standard for secure remote connections. We are on a fast growth track, and advancing into the finals in a top competition like this is a great honor,” says Tosibox CEO Tero Lepistö.
